Pam Taylor, Wolcott Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary and Wolcott Fire Chief Bob Lockwood place a memorial wreath in the Wolcott Park by the Veterans' memorial.

A wreath is placed in front of the monument at the triangle in Red Creek.

Father Bob Smith reads a prayer in front of the South Butler Firehall at the first stop along the parade route. The wreath memorial was placed in front of the firehall.

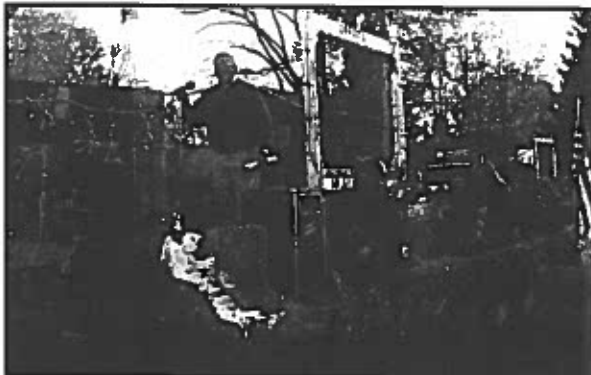

Rose firefighters place the memorial wreath in front of the patriotic monument in Rose.

Children in the parade rode school buses to each community where they disembarked and rode decorated wagons. The weather was very cold, but the children were very proud to participate.

Steve Galvin and family created the Sept. 11 remembrance flag in honor of the tragic events in New York City. The flag was presented to the community on a special float.

Dick Lasher greeted crowds and members of the parade units in each of 5 communities, South Butler, Red Creek, Rose, North Rose and Wolcott.
